The AI Sales Cheat Sheet

AI-POWERED SALES & CRM · YOUR PIPELINE ON AUTOPILOT

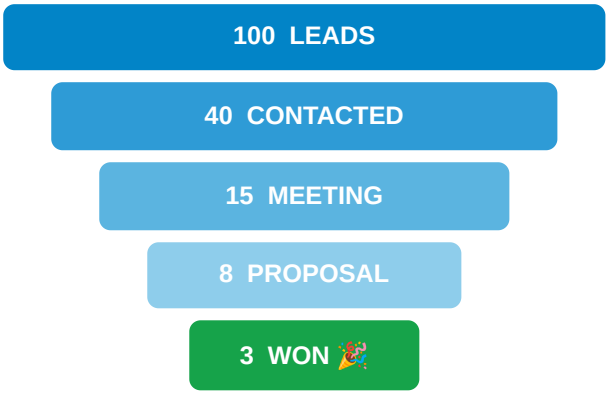

The 70% Problem

A typical sales day: only ~30% is selling. The rest — research, writing, CRM admin, chasing follow-ups — is busywork.

The plan: give the 70% to AI.
Keep the 30% that pays.

The Pipeline (the only jargon you need)

~3% of leads become clients — and that's a healthy funnel. Your whole job: pour more in at the top, fix the leaks on the way down.

The 3 leaks where deals quietly die

1 · Weak research

You pitch without knowing them — they feel it in 30 seconds.

2 · Boring outreach

"Dear Sir/Madam" copy-paste gets deleted, not answered.

3 · Forgotten follow-ups

80% of deals need 5+ touches. Most people stop at 2.

Good news: research, writing and remembering are the three things AI is best at.

Your 5-Tool AI Sales Team

ALL FREE PLANS · NO CODING ANYWHERE

ChatGPT — the writer
Emails, WhatsApp messages, objection replies, call prep, summaries, lead scoring
NEED A MESSAGE?

Perplexity — the researcher
Searches the live web, answers with clickable sources. Kills the 15-tab Google hunt
NEED FACTS?

Claude — the strategist
Long, careful documents: proposals, follow-up sequences, reading big tenders
NEED A LONG DOC?

Gemini — the all-rounder
Reads photos: visiting card in → name, role, email, phone out. Voice on the go
NEED A PHOTO READ?

HubSpot — the organiser (a CRM, not a chat AI)
One home for every lead & deal. Free forever plan. Reminders that nag you NEED LEADS ORGANISED?

Research Any Prospect in 10 Minutes

STEP 1 OF THE SYSTEM · TOOL: PERPLEXITY (+ GEMINI FOR PHOTOS)

THE MASTER RESEARCH PROMPT — SWAP THE [BRACKETS]

I run [BrightBrew Coffee Roasters — we supply specialty coffee to cafés and offices].

Research "[Target Café Chain]" as my sales prospect. Tell me:
1. What they do and how big they are
2. Any recent news or new locations
3. Their likely top 3 problems that [a coffee supplier] could solve
4. Who likely decides on [coffee purchasing] there
5. Three conversation openers I could use

Keep it short and practical, with sources.

What comes back = your Prospect Brief. Use each part:

- Who they are → you sound informed on the call.
- Fresh news → your ice-breaker: "Saw you opened two new outlets — congratulations!"
- Their 3 problems → pitch ONLY these. Not your whole catalogue.
- Who decides → call THIS person. Never info@.
- Openers → ready-made first lines.

Rule for life: never dial a number without a brief like this open next to you.

Bonus: photo → lead (Gemini)

Expo pocket full of visiting cards? Photograph each one:

[Attach photo] Extract this visiting card into: name, role, company, email, phone, city — then suggest one next step for me as a salesperson.

Then: 3 openers (ChatGPT)

Here is my research brief: [paste]. Give me 3 opening lines for my first call: one on their news, one on their problem, one warm & curious with no pitch. Under 25 words each. Human, not salesy.

Outreach That Gets Replies

STEP 2 OF THE SYSTEM · TOOLS: CHATGPT (EMAILS) + CLAUDE (SEQUENCES)

Anatomy of a reply-getting email (under 90 words!)

SUBJECT Quick thought on your two new outlets

OPENER Hi — saw BrightBrew's target café just opened two new outlets; keeping coffee quality consistent across branches must be top of mind.

VALUE We supply 30+ cafés in the city, same roast profile at every branch, delivered twice a week.

ASK Worth a 15-minute tasting slot this Thursday?

SIGN-OFF — Founder, BrightBrew Coffee Roasters

Specific subject · their world first · proof in numbers, not adjectives · one small ask · short sign-off. Nobody is "Dear Sir/Madam." Everybody is a name.

The 5-touch cadence (80% of deals need 5+ touches)

DAY 1	DAY 3	DAY 6	DAY 10	DAY 14
Cold email	LinkedIn	Value email	WhatsApp	Break-up
the one above	short & human	give, don't ask	friendly nudge	close the loop

They reply at ANY point → jump off the cadence and talk like a human. Ask Claude to write all five touches at once (prompt bank, page 5).

5 golden rules

- 1 · Always edit before sending
- 2 · One real researched detail per message
- 3 · Your voice — feed AI your old emails
- 4 · Short beats clever (<90 words)
- 5 · Never fake a "fact" — trust > one reply

WhatsApp etiquette: ask permission before sending photos/brochures

CRM + Autopilot

STEPS 3 & 4 OF THE SYSTEM · TOOLS: HUBSPOT (FREE) + CHATGPT

Every deal card holds

👤 Contact — the decision-maker's name & role
🏢 Company
💰 Deal value
📊 Stage — Leads / Contacted / Meeting / Proposal / Won
📅 Next task — with a date (the CRM nags you)
📝 Notes — paste your whole research brief in

The 60-second habit: update the card right after every call. "Later" = never.

Hot · Warm · Cold

🔥 HOT
Replied, asked price, meeting set, budget confirmed → call today

🌤 WARM
Opened, clicked, "maybe later" → keep the cadence running

❄️ COLD
Silent after all 5 touches → park 90 days, no guilt

Friday ritual: paste your list into ChatGPT, get it ranked. Top 5 rows = Monday's plan.

THE SCORING PROMPT — YOUR FRIDAY RITUAL

Score my leads hot/warm/cold. For each: score 1-10, one-line reason, next action. Rank hottest first, as a table.
My leads: [paste list — one line of status per lead]

Your 30-day plan — one habit per week

WEEK 1	WEEK 2	WEEK 3	WEEK 4
Research only	Add outreach	Into the CRM	Autopilot on
Brief every prospect before you call	AI drafts in your voice, you edit	Every lead = a HubSpot card	Friday scoring + cadence tasks
